

The Institute of Chartered Accountants in England and Wales, ICAEW and the Moscow Exchange are delighted to invite you to the presentation of a new educational film «Without question» created by ICAEW experts and based on several real cases.

'Sometimes you get too close. Assume too much. Don't ask that extra question... and regret it.'

“Without Question” focuses on the importance of professional scepticism and extends the scrutiny of behaviours to tax advisors as well as auditors. It probes issues such as reliance on experts, accounting estimates and confidentiality. This film also examines conflicts within a family owned company, its difficult transition to become a listed entity and the struggle of founding shareholders with the loss of control and of new independent directors in asserting control and good governance.

To learn more about the background to the creation of “Without Question” please follow the link <https://www.icaew.com/en/learning-and-development/icaew-educational-films/without-question/creation-of-without-question> .